

CURRICULUM VITAE

Iván Cáceres Sánchez (Madrid, June 1984). After studying Architecture at ETSAM for three years he moved to Valencia, where he obtained a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in 2010 (Polytechnic University of Valencia). During this period he works as a departmental collaborator in the Audiovisual Communication, Documentation & Art History Department. He then studied two postgraduate courses at the Polytechnic University of Valencia: Master's Degree in Artistic Production, specializing in "Contemporary Thought and Visual Culture" (2012), and the Master's Degree in Photography, Art and Technique (2016). In 2013 moves to Berlin in order to work as an intern photographer in the company BGK Berliner Gesellschaft für Kulturmarketing. From 2013 to 2016 he works also as a graphic designer and photographer for Concergio GmbH, developing his own artistic projects in parallel. He returns finally to Madrid in 2016 and starts teaching photography at the University School of Arts TAI (Transforming Art Institute). Although his production expands to different artistic disciplines, photography and video art occupy the most important place.
